Yellow warning
Wind

Between 00:00 Wed 16 Dec 2020 and
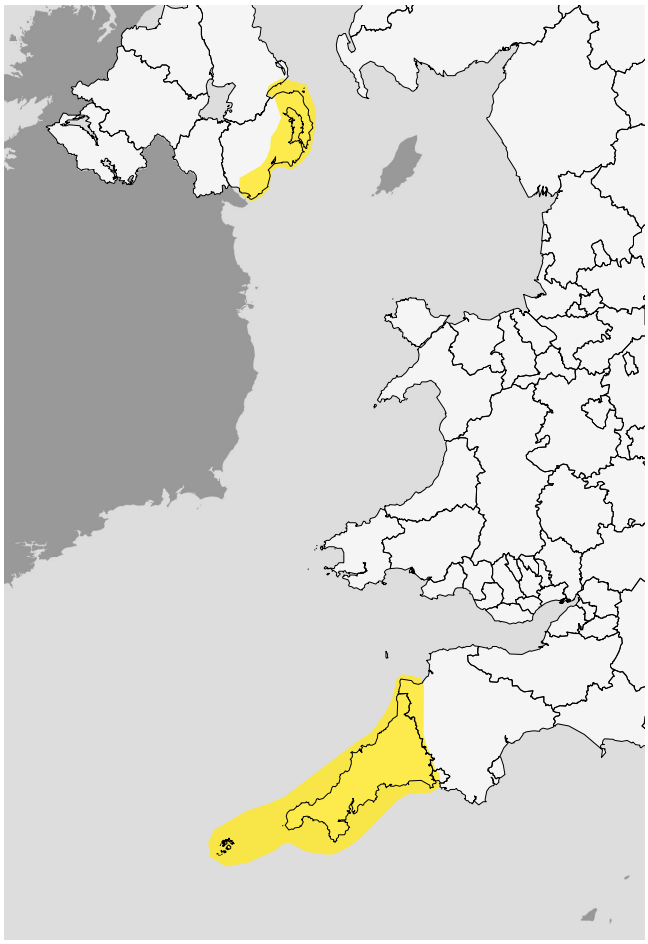
15:00 Wed 16 Dec 2020



A spell of strong winds brings the potential for disruption to travel and utilities.

What to expect

- It's likely that some coastal routes, sea fronts and coastal communities affected by spray and/or large waves
- Some delays to road, rail, air and ferry transport are likely
- Probably some bus and train services affected, with some journeys taking longer
- Delays for high-sided vehicles on exposed routes and bridges likely
- Some short term loss of power and other services is possible

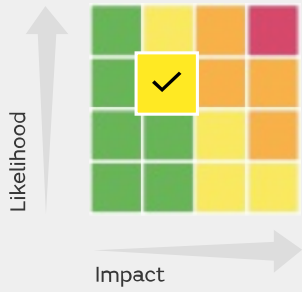
Further details

An area of strong wind is expected to affect western parts of the UK on Wednesday.

Wind gusts of 55-60 mph are likely for the far southwest of England and the east of Northern Ireland.

The strongest winds will affect Cornwall before transferring to part of eastern Northern Ireland later as winds ease from the southwest.

A band of squally rain will move across the area through the period and may also prove an additional hazard.



Medium likelihood of low impacts
